I love the ideas for engaging students in zoom lessons!

my inheritance

Sharing

Wow: The most amazing experience I've had since all of this began!

Fun and interesting...interactive

Wow! I love the way we used the space on the gallery view with silent interactions Wows! There were so many opportunities to hear personal stories. I was really moved by so many of them.

Wonder how this would work with very young students

I loved using Google Drawings and learning about the book! I wonder if I can figure out an easier way for my students to do found poetry.

the power of stories to develop literacy. Love hearing them!

I wonder how to incorporate google drawings with first graders who do not have gmail accounts....

Wow - we were able to be so interactive even while being remote. Bravo!

WOW: Google draw is super cool and fun.Wonder: I wonder if we can get google emails for our kids to access all this stuff we are learning how to incorporate into our classrooms.

Wows - I've inherited some amazing traits from my family.

WOW- THE VAST USE OF TECHNOLOGY TO KEEP US ENGAGED

WOW!!! Today's participation was WONDERFUL!!!

Wow: Loved seeing everyone's walls. Wonder: How will this work with younger students.

WOW: There are so many cool tools and ways to collaborate with online learning!

Wow today was great!

I really appreciate all the help with the google drawing.
Becoming more comfortable with it.

google drawing has so much potential

Wow: I learned more about my colleagues and their stories. Wonder: I wonder if we will continue to share stories with one another. :)

All the fun things you can do online.

Using our bodies to express and tell stories!!

WONDERS- WHAT IS NEXT?!

I loved all the technology that was hands on. I liked how easy it is to still use TPR. I was amazed at what people inherited Really felt like we built a community here today. Would love to create this warm and social opportunities for our kids.

I liked how we created such a personal digital collage, I have done a project like this before but now I can really guide and direct the students to create more meaningful and personal work.

So excited to use good draw this year!

I wonder if we can use google apps in the classroom.

Wow-A lot of fun on Google Drawing.Wonder-Can we use Google Drawing in 104?

I wonder how long it would take students to learn how to use the program.

Junto con mi equipo - pudimos encontrar una manera de usar Google Drawing para estudiantes de Kinder WOW- didn't realize time could fly by so fast while sitting in front of my computer!

Wonders will I survive the rest of the week!

Engaging with other teachers was fun!

Wonder - I wonder if Microsoft has an app or extension comparable to Google Drawing

Wonder how remote learning will work when I had so many issues with my connectivity today

I wonder what else I can do with google drawing

Loved learning about google draw and having different people in each group!

Sharing in different groups!

Will we continue to read passages from the Charlie Hernandez novel? I want to keep reading it and find out more.

WOW-I really loved the memory wall. This not only made me think, but brought back some pleasant memories I have had with lost loved ones. Wonder-I wonder how I can use these activities with my kindergarten special needs students!

WOW: My favorite activity was the Found Poetry! I can really see myself teaching this process to my students.WONDER: I wonder how long it will take my students to understand Google Drawings? It is a fun tool though!

Wows - It was great to see a large group zoom class in progress. This makes me feel more comfortable about doing this with my own students.Wonders - Where can we find templates for unique backgrounds on google draweings?

Wow, why don't we use google instead of MS at SD104

I can imagine creating lots of different kinds of murals with kids. Would love to have them collaborate in Google Drawings.

Wow it was great to see so many familiar faces

WOW- google drawings to make presentations for assignments

WOW: I am always blown away by how these activities are so deeply connected to emotion and the human experience. The inheritance activity really made me think, remember, grieve and smile.

WONDER: Will we have the ability to use Google tools with our students who don't have google accounts?

Will my kindergarten students be able to use Google Drawings interactions and connections

Wow: I spent 4 hours on the computer and didn't feel it! I loved the interactions.

Wow: I learned how to use Google Drawing| wonder if I'll be able to use Google D. with my preschoolers

Can we get google emails enabled in 104 so we can do this stuff with our kids?

Wow: I loved the community building experience

Wow, It's amazing how technology can be simplified when you have support especially when you don't feel comfortable using it.

playing with google drawings

Wow! The rich lives we all have blessed by our inheritance. Thanks to all you shared their inheritances with me. Beautiful!! wonder how I can learn how to use the technology with my students. HABLA team, fabulous job orchestrating all this!

¡guau- que primer día tan interactivo!

My wow, is that I am amazed at the variety of things you can do in Google Drawing but still a little frustrating. My wonder what type of platform our school would be using so I would be able to incorporate this.

Excited to see all of the created work! How would you use a recording app to have studnets share a story or poem permenentally with the image.

Wows and Wonders

All the inheritance stories were so sad!

Wonder how we can use google drawing in our district that is microsoft

Wonder- Are we ever going to use google and google classroom (HMS)?

Wonder: How to use these activities with young elementary (google drawings, 4 square) but I loved the call and response and am excited to modify these activities with little ones.

I like how great you all broke down the steps for google drawing. Im more tech-savvy but some aren't and it also gave me an idea as to how to break down the "how to" to a less tech savvy audience.

so happy to have been part of this PD.

Because Tim doesn't like it.

I wonder what we will do tomorrow!

Google Drawing allows non verbal kids to express themselves

Wows and Wonders

Wow: Summer is amazing!

Wow!! So much can be done in Google drawings and allows for collaboration to learn about each other. Thanks!
